

The invitation

TRANSCRIPTION OF THE TEXT

Reality flows in different levels
There are several dimensions we cannot see with the naked eye
Humanity has built a whole new reality
There we are, completely immersed in So full of concepts
So full of words
It has taken away almost completely our own basic nature

We believe we are better

We are convinced that, that is the truth

So far from this we are LOST
We have managed to get absolutely LOST

Reality flows in different levels
see with the naked eye

Humanity has built a whole new reality

Shut your thoughts!

And come, come and see a new one with me

“Sensations” is the word to experience
what you cannot see.
It is just a matter of feeling Sink deep into yourself and you will realize that there aren’t such things as you have been taught

You will make sense of what really matters
You will feel what you haven’t before

“Sensations” is the word to experience
what you cannot see Sink deep into yourself and you will question who you are

Do you know who you actually are in loneliness?

Sink deep into yourself and you will find that nothing in this reality makes sense

We are fucking BLIND!

Is there such a thing as time?
Is there such a thing as boundaries?
Is there such a thing as order?

“Sensations” is the word to experience
what you cannot see Sink deep into yourself and you will be aware of your own existence (experience)

What is up or down?
What is real and what is not?
What is outside or inside?

Everything is connected and you too are part of it all

We are surrounded by light
We are surrounded by life

Can you not feel the life within you?
